CAN I CLAIM FOR AN INJURY CAUSED BY A FAULTY PRODUCT?

If you have been injured as a result of using a faulty product, you may be entitled to claim damages. To receive compensation, it must be shown that someone is "responsible" for the injury. You may have a claim for damages if a company:

- Has failed to properly inspect a product
- Has used defective material in manufacturing the product
- Has failed to provide adequate warnings

The law governing this type of claim is very complex and there are many strict time frames that must be adhered to. If you have been hurt in this type of circumstance, you should seek legal advice without delay.
